

Consumers should have the option to choose and be charged only for stations they select. Why should we be hoodwinked into the logic that a bundled package saves us money when in fact over half the additional "bundled" stations are not desired.